CAKES

Through a minor obsession with cake shows, I have experimented on friends and family with my baking creations. Thankfully no one has died yet and I get to have a good time trying out new things! My grandma is a frequent victim of receiving cakes she didn't ask for. The gallery below features a few of the cakes I have made for her.

"Sunshine Cake"

Coconut cake
Coconut cream frosting

Last year was my Grandma's 92nd birthday and somehow over the years acquired the nickname 'Grandma Sunshine', so naturally she needed a sunshine cake. Her favorite shirt is a black and white paisley print so that got thrown on there for an added bonus.
